ESEL-XP LIQUID

Vitamin E & Selenium are required to build the Immune system in the animal's bodies as they play a role as "Antioxidants".

Selenium deficiency in newborn calves leads to white muscle diseases & retains the placenta in newly calved cows. Vitamin E & Selenium play a major role in the treatment of mastitis as deficiency of any one of them may lead to increased incidence of mastitis. Feeding of vitamin E may be leads to a New tropolic activity to kill bacteria observed at calving.

Most of the diseases in dairy cows occur at or just after calving as it is mainly due to immune suppression leading to susceptibility to infections. Prepartum immune suppression is mainly due to endocrine changes & due to feed intake of improper nutrients. Vit E is fat solvent vit. not synthesized in rumen however it is essential for dairy cattle as well as calves
